Dima's commitment to sustainability and responsible business practices is exemplified by her role as the President and National Representative of the UN Global Compact Network Lebanon (GCNL), a network of businesses dedicated to advancing Sustainability and the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) in Lebanon, a position she has held since 2015. Beyond academia, Dima has also served as an expert consultant for the United Nations on Social Policy and Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR). She has contributed her expertise to various projects funded by the World Bank, the US Agency for International Development, and major private and public firms in the region. Over the past five years, she has been a leading force in championing the UN Global Compact Network for Lebanon, collaborating with prominent private sector companies to advance the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) and the UN 2030 agenda in Lebanon through practical social, humanitarian, and environmental initiatives. Dima Jamali's enduring commitment to education, sustainability, and responsible leadership underscores her significant impact in academia and her dedication to shaping a better future.

Opening Speaker/Keynote Speaker

Dr. Kathy O'Sullivan

Dr. Kathy O'Sullivan is a seasoned educator and visionary with a wealth of international experience spanning Europe, the Middle East, and Asia. Her impressive career includes advisory roles in various international projects, notably with UNESCO-ICHEI in Shenzhen, China, where she focused on advancing innovation and ICT in higher education across Asian and African regions.

One of Kathy's remarkable achievements was serving as the founding director of the Center for Language Education at the Southern University of Science and Technology (SUSTech) in Shenzhen, China. This role made her the first non-Chinese national to hold a management position of such significance in a mainland Chinese university, underscoring her pioneering spirit.

Her dynamic career also includes her role as President of Global Partnerships for a chain of business schools in China, Belgium, and Luxembourg, where she played a pivotal role in international education and collaboration.

Throughout her journey, Kathy has garnered a slew of awards that reflect her commitment to excellence and innovation. Her diverse experiences and extensive international engagement have equipped her with a profound understanding of the global educational landscape.

Despite her many accolades and accomplishments, Kathy's unwavering passion lies in helping others recognize and achieve their full potential. Currently, she serves as the Dean of the Office of University Advancement at Canadian University Dubai, where she continues to be a catalyst for positive change in the field of education. Her journey is a testament to the power of education and global collaboration in shaping a brighter future.
